

CONDITIONS IN WAHALAK AND SCOOBA SERIOUS

NEARLY A SCORE OF DEATHS IN MISSISSIPPI TOWNS HAVE ALREADY OCCURRED.

ARMED NEGROES IN CAMP

Pitched Battle Will Follow Any Attempt to Drive Out Blacks—The Troops Called Out.

(Bulletin.)
Meridian, Miss., Dec. 26.—Conditions today at Wahalak and Scooba,
the scene of the race riots this week,
are regarded as serious. Troops still are on guard, but a fresh outbreak is feared. Nearly a score of deaths have occurred.

Two hundred armed negroes are reported to be encamped two miles from Wahalak. A band of whites is being collected to attack their camp,
and troops may join in this. A pitched battle will follow any attempt to drive out the blacks.

Another fight on a train occurred
Monday night. Conductor George Harrison was killed by four negroes.
Two of the blacks were instantly killed
in retaliation.

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 26.—Governor
Vardaman received a telegram from J. A. Quarles, a prominent citizen of Scooba, Miss., stating that a further uprising had occurred, in which five unknown negroes were killed, and that their slayers had been captured,
and asking that 25 troops be dispatched to that place to help hold the prisoners. Governor Vardaman instructed the colonel commanding at Meridian to ask for a special train over the Mobile & Ohio railroad and to go to the scene as quickly as possible.

Wahalak, Miss., Dec. 26.—The state troops, called here to suppress the racial rioting, have all returned to Meridian, their commander having expressed the belief that there would be no further use for them. Conductor
Robert Harrison of the Mobile & Ohio railroad, who was ambushed and seriously wounded by a negro, is dead.
The origin of the racial troubles here
was caused primarily by the meeting
in a narrow roadway of wagons driven by a white farmer and a negro respectively. The negro abused the white man, who reported the occurrence to the white villagers at Wahalak. The whites immediately organized themselves and in a fight with the negroes
of the community a number of white men were killed, including one of the most prominent in the vicinity. The number of negroes killed in the rioting has never been approximated, but dead negroes have been found in all parts of the settlement since the trouble started. After the arrival of the troops no disturbance occurred, although it is believed that three negroes, including George Simpson, one of the principals in the disturbance
aboard the Mobile & Ohio train last Sunday, had been lynched just before the arrival of the troops. The citizens of Wahalak will not admit the fact that the men were captured by a posse, but say they were "lost in the swamp" while on their way to town.
Two sons of Simpson were shot to death.

As near as can be ascertained at this time the casualties resultant from the trouble are as follows: Unknown negro, shot by Conductor Cooper on the Mobile & Ohio train; Constable O'Brien, killed by precipitator of the trouble, George Simpson, when an attempt at arrest was made. George Simpson, lynched; Tom Simpson, son of George Simpson, shot to death by white citizens near Wahalak; Jim Simpson, another son, shot to death;
two unknown negroes, lynched; Conductor Cooper, seriously injured by being cut and stabbed seven times by George Simpson, not fatal; Leland Sparkman, soldier, flesh wound in left knee, accidental discharge of his own pistol.

DEAD IN A CHAIR

Springfield Man Asphyxiated as He Sat in Front of a Gas Stove in a Room.

Springfield, O., Dec. 26.—Clint G.
Ferry, aged 26, of West Mansfield,
was found dead sitting in front of a gas stove in the room of a friend
here at 3 o'clock last night. Death was due to asphyxiation. The stove did not burn all the gas and some escaped into the room. He was employed as a restaurant waiter. An employee went into awaken him to go to work and found him dead.

PLOT OF MAFIA IS RESPONSIBLE FOR SIX DEATHS

HALF DOZEN ITALIANS FOUND DEAD IN NEW ORLEANS
TENEMENT TODAY.

DISCOVERY CAUSES A PANIC

Officers Unable to Cope With the Situation and Firemen Ordered to the Scene.

(Bulletin.)
New Orleans, La., Dec. 26.—A plot
of the Mafia which has been working secretly in New Orleans for years, is regarded as being responsible for the deaths of six Italians who were found murdered early today in a tenement house in Dumaine street. Several of the men had been burned to death.

Such a panic has been created among Italians as a result of the discovery that it was necessary to send every reserve policeman in the city to the tenement house. Even then there was so much excitement that the officers could not cope with the situation and all able bodied firemen were ordered to the scene to assist in maintaining order. There has not been so much excitement in the Italian colony since the wholesale lynchings of Italians several years ago.

The murders are believed to have been committed during the early part of the night and there is every indication that they were carefully planned. As no screams from the victims were heard, it is believed many men participated in the slaughter,
and all the victims were struck down at the same time. Those which were burned were probably set on fire after
the murders had been committed.
So far the police have been unable to secure a clue to the perpetrators.
The Italians are all so badly frightened that it is useless to question them. The greatest fear prevails that the outbreak of the dread secret society is not over and that additional murders may follow.

NEW EVIDENCE

Discovery of Dona Gilman's Book
May Be Important in Dayton Murder Case.

Dayton, O., Dec. 26.—According to reports, Detective William Heintzman of Cincinnati, who has labored un-tilingly on the task of solving the mystery surrounding the murder of Dona Gilman in Dayton, has unearthed
the most important piece of the mass of evidence so far collected in the finding on the roof of the Gilman home a burned portion of the book "Muarine," which Dona Gilman carried on the night of November 20,
when she met her death. Heintzman says the pieces were found in a water trough, probably carried there by the wind. He secured, he says, a copy of the volume, and thereby identified the fragments. These he will present to the grand jury, which will consider the case of the mother and brother of the dead girl. If Heintzman has secured what he says he has it is evident that he has in his possession valuable evidence toward clearing the haze of mystery which surrounds the murder of the pretty girl.

FOUGHT A DUEL

Sharon, Pa., Dec. 26.—Frank Polen
and John Merceno, the latter a barber, fought a desperate duel in South Sharon last night. When found by the police both were nearly dead from wounds and loss of blood. At the hospital both are reported today to be in a critical condition. Four razors and two pairs of scissors were found in Merceno's pockets.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Many Who Took Strikers' Places
Have Been Induced to Stop Work—Trains Moving.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 26.—Many of the men who took the places of the striking firemen on the San Antonio
division of the Southern Pacific system have been induced by the strikers
to stop work, and their places are being filled with imported men. It is understood here that the Brotherhood of Firemen is contemplating the calling out of all of the members on the Harriman lines. The local Southern Pacific officials say they are moving
all the trains, passenger and freight,
they desire to on this division.

RETURNED HEIRESS, HER HUSBAND AND HOME OF AN UNCLE.

DR. ROLANDO KUEHN

CABIN HOME IN KNOCKMOYLE COUNTY, IRELAND, OF DANIEL MILLER, UNCLE OF IDA MAY MILLER, KUEHN
FROM RIGHT TO LEFT—DANIEL MILLER, MISS
GALBRAITH, MRS. IDA MAY MILLER KUEHN AND HER COUSIN JAMES MILLER

New York, Dec. 26.—Philadelphia's missing heiress, Ida May Miller Kuehn, is in the Hotel York, with her husband, Dr. Rolando Kuehn.
She arrived from Queenstown, Ireland, by the Umbria, as previously told in an Advocate dispatch. She has not been in any asylum for the insane, or sanatorium, nor under the influence of drugs or hypnosis, as has been asserted by her relatives.

She has been in her father's old home, Knockmoyle, near Omagh, Ireland, and among his relatives in that neighborhood for three weeks, collecting evidence to support a charge
which she says will be made immediately upon her return to Philadelphia this week, that his estate has been looted.

Mrs. Kuehn is a plump, wholesome looking young woman, with shrewd twinkling blue eyes, quick to see and appreciate humor, gentle in her manner and speech, and with distaste for the notoriety which has been thrust upon her in the last week.

She says she believes the present conditions surrounding the insitu-

tion of marriage are false and make for unhappiness and that she put her ideas into personal practice by declining to be wedded by clergyman or magistrate, until her husband, for her own protection compelled her to

TWO MEN KILLED

Seranton, Pa., Dec. 26.—The bodies

were badly mangled. It is supposed they were struck by a train.

WOMAN PERISHES

Husband Barely Escaped Alive From Fire Which Destroyed Their Apartments.

New York, Dec. 26.—Mrs. Susan Kelly, 50, was burned to death and her husband barely escaped with his life in a fire which destroyed their apartments in West Sixtieth street
and drove other tenants of the building
to the roof, from which they were carried to the street by firemen. It is believed that Mrs. Kelly's dress caught fire from a Christmas candle.

QUARREL OVER WOMAN

Chicago, Dec. 26.—In the presence of the four troops of the Fort Sheridan squadron of the Ninth cavalry, Sergeant John Griffin of Troop I shot
and almost instantly killed Corporal
William Taylor of the same troop.
Both men, who are colored, quarreled over a woman. Taylor received the bullet through his breast and died on the way to the hospital. A rigid investigation has been ordered by Major Macomb.

A DUEL TRAGEDY

New York, Dec. 26.—John J.
O'Rourke, 23, an electrician, shot and seriously wounded his wife Lillian, 24,
and then killed himself, at their home in Richmond Hill, Long Island. The shooting, the police say, followed a quarrel. Mrs. O'Rourke's injuries were pronounced not fatal.

A northbound passenger train on the Philadelphia and Washington railroads collided with a local freight train at Newport, Del. The fireman of the express train was killed and several passengers were injured.

WRIGHT RELEASED FROM AN ASYLUM AFTER TEN YEARS

FINALLY SMUGGLED LETTER TO HIS LAWYER AND WAS FOUND SANE.

WORTH ABOUT TEN MILLIONS

Former Financier and Railway Man
Will Make Home in the State of Colorado.

Philadelphia, Dec. 26.—After spending ten years in Philadelphia asylums for the insane, Theodore Wright, formerly financier and railroad man, has been released. His estate is valued at $10,000,000. Wright has bought constantly all these years to effect his release.

Early this year, Wright smuggled a letter to his lawyer, and after a long legal battle he was declared sane.
Wright was sent to the asylum at the instance of his son, Minton E. Wright, who had affairs of physicians. Inside the asylum wall there was no escape. By a peculiar phase of the law, a man adjudged insane has not the right of appeal for a jury trial concerning his sanity. He must wait until a member of the family petitions
the court for his release.

A branch of the family was won over and Wright will live with Mrs.
Francis Davis in Colorado.

MACKLIN WILL LEAVE

Fort Reno, Okla., Dec. 26.—Captain
Edgar A. Macklin continues to improve, and his physician stated that his patient would recover. The search for the negro assailant of Macklin is being continued with no apparent success. The murder theory has been discarded and the officers now are convinced that the intent was robbery.

Mrs. Charles Ferguson, 60, was burned to death when her home burned down three miles from Hillman, Mich.

NEGROES IN RIOT

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 26.—Fifty
negroes engaged in a drunken fight, using clubs, knives and stones. Beside the injuries sustained by the participants, which consisted of broken heads and severe bruises, a policeman
and a spectator were hurt.

LIVERY BURNS

Causing Heavy Loss in Atlanta—Fire Started by Stove Overturning
in their Office.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 26.—A loss of $100,000 was caused by a fire here
which destroyed the livery and sales stables of Harper Brothers and of Ragsdale & Carlisle, near the Union stock yards, in the western part of the city. One hundred horses and four mules which the night watchman was unable to release were burned to death. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the overturning of a stove in the office, and this was caused by the efforts of a robber to blow the safe. The insurance is approximately $25,000.

AUTO KILLS BOY

Washington, Dec. 26.—The 60-horsepower touring car of Joseph Letter,
in which were riding Mr. Letter,
Mrs. Levi Z. Letter and Mr. and Mrs.
Franklin Remington of New York, ran down and in only killed Samuel West, a 14-year-old negro boy. Mrs.
Letter and Mrs. Remington were apparently affected by the accident.
Charles H. Raymond, the chauffeur, was arrested, and the entire party went to the Tenth precinct police station,
where the car was parked in contention of an officer in order that Mr.
Letter and his party might be conveyed to the Letter residence.

STABBED BY SOLDIERS

Fort Sill, Okla., Dec. 26.—Earl Northrup, 22, was probably fatally stabbed during a saloon quarrel by Private Howard of Troop K, Thirteenth cavalry, stationed at Fort Sill.
Howard was arrested and is in jail in default of bond.

FORAKER'S DEF IS ACCEPTED BY MR. ROOSEVELT

SENATOR'S CHALLENGE IN NEGRO SOLDIERS' CASE IS TAKEN UP.

FIERCE FIGHT IS IN PROSPECT

As President is Eager for Battle—
Will Gather Evidence in Noted Rioting Case.

Washington, Dec. 26.—"I think that the story about the President intending to do is too silly to talk about and you must excuse me from discussing it."

Thus declared Senator Foraker today when asked his opinion of the President's reported declaration that he would disregard any law congress
might pass reinstating the discharged colored troops, until the Supreme court should have the opportunity of passing upon it.

The senator has just returned from New York, where it is said, he conferred with officials of the Constitutional league, an organization which has conducted an independent investigation of the negro troop matter and which has arrived at conclusions that differ radically from those of the President and Secretary Taft.

Thus far the President has failed to issue any denial of the statements attributed to him one of which was that he would even welcome impeachment
if congress should desire to take that extreme measure.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The sending by the President of an assistant attorney general into Texas to gather evidence in the now noted negro rioting case is recognized in official circles
as an open acceptance by President Roosevelt of the challenge uttered by Senator Foraker of Ohio in the Senate just before the holiday recess.

Least there should be any doubt as to his intention the President has made it clear to his friends that he will wage the battle he thinks the Ohio Senator is seeking, and that he will fight to the last ditch to defend his recent action in discharging the three companies of troops because of their refusal to testify against those of their number, who, the War Department contents, "shot up" the town of Brownsville.

Those who have discussed the matter with the President agree that they never saw him more determined. So sure is he of his present position that Assistant Attorney Purdy's mission is to secure the evidence against the negro troops that would establish their guilt in court. This is one of the points made by Senator Foraker in his recent attack upon the President.

The President declines to accept the view that no man shall leave the public service unless the evidence against him is of such a nature as would hold him in court.

The situation growing out of the President's order of dismissal and Senator Foraker's investigation resolution with his speech thereon, is one which in the matter of the possibility contained, has no parallel in the time that Mr. Roosevelt has been President.

While there can be no doubt that many people in and out of Congress honestly and sincerely believe that the President has done the discharged negroes a gross injustice, it is equally certain that an element among the Republican leaders is endeavoring to use the matter to their own political advantage and to the detriment of the President.

Signs point to the opening of one of the fiercest battles that has ever marked political life and it is the impression that the final outcome will decide the next Republican Presidential nominee.

MANUFACTURERS

Who Desire South American and Oriental Trade Are Here Given Good Trip.

Washington, Dec. 26.—American manufacturers who are desirous of capturing some of the trade in the orient, South America and other countries now enjoyed by foreign manufacturers saw a report of the bureau of manufactures of the department of commerce and labor, should apply to that bureau for its varied lines of samples of goods which find a ready market in those countries. These samples consist of cotton yarns, piece
goods, belts, handkerchiefs, gloves, laces, towels, etc. Any or all of these samples, the report states, will be sent upon application by manufacturers, chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations located in cotton manufacturing towns.

NEGRO SOLDIERS ENGAGE IN RIOT AT LEAVENWORTH

RIGID INVESTIGATION BEGAN TO-DAY TO LEARN NAMES OF PARTICIPANTS.

SEVERAL PEOPLE INJURED

Trouble Started When Colored Man Who Was Drunk Refused to Pay His Fare.

Leavenworth, Kansas, Dec. 26.—A rigid investigation is being made today to learn the particulars in the riot caused by negro soldiers last night on a late car to Fort Leavenworth, which ended in a serious fight between black and white soldiers.

Trouble started when a negro soldier who was drunk refused to pay his fare. He called the conductor a rude name and was knocked down.
Other negroes rushed to the help of their comrade and white soldiers on the car took a hand.

The negroes jumped off the car
and began throwing stones through the windows. This attack frightened other passengers, many of whom were women.

Leavenworth, Kan., Dec. 26.—Fourteen soldiers, the majority of whom are troopers of the Ninth cavalry, colored, were arrested in connection with a riot on a streetcar, in which a number of shots were fired into a loaded car and several passengers slightly injured by broken glass. Captain Walsh of the Ninth cavalry is making an investigation into the causes of the trouble, which is believed to be similar to that which resulted in the discharge of three companies of the Twenty-fifth infantry at Fort Reno, Okla., recently.
A full investigation into the riot is being conducted by Captain Walsh, commanding the squadron of the Ninth cavalry. Captain Walsh said:
"Three men are under arrest. I am told that there were no shots fired in the car by the soldiers. The conductor claimed so, but an old sergeant of the Eighteenth infantry says that bricks broke the windows. There was an argument over the payment of a fare between a trooper and the conductor, which led to the trouble. There is no desire on the part of either the white or colored soldiers who were on the car to shield their comrades. They are making statements voluntarily of what they know."

UNDERTAKER WAS STARTLED WHEN WOMAN MOVED

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Miss Augusta Gardman today arose from an undertaker's slab where she was being prepared for burial and chided the undertaker for handling her so roughly.
The startled undertaker rubbed his eyes and pinched himself, then called the police.
By the time the patrol wagon came
Mrs. Gardman who had swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid, six hours before, had put on her clothes and was preparing to walk home.
For hours she had lain as dead in her home and her death certificate had been signed by two physicians. The undertaker had been working over her body for three hours and was just about to inject the embalming fluid
when his subject stirred.

Mt. Vernon Was Outplayed at All Times—Heath Won All Rushes. Barker in Coshocton.

Newark took both polo games from Mt. Vernon Tuesday the first one by a score of 4 to 0 and the second by a score of 2 to 1. Newark went to Mt. Vernon for the first game and the game was played on the East High street rink.

In the evening Newark outplayed Mt. Vernon at every stage of the game. The locals won every rush and though Mt. Vernon cared one goal that was the only instant when the Newark bunch let up. The lineup and summary:

Woman Gives Her Money and Commits Suicide.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 26.—A story of interest is behind the suicide of Mrs. Elsie Ballour, 55, whose body was dragged from the depths of Eastlake park lake, where she had thrown herself. In the suicide's handbag, on torn envelope, there was scrawled in an almost illegible hand, "M. E. Ballour, 417 Turner street. My will is in the little trunk on the table. I want to be cremated." Following the directions the will was found. In it the woman disposes of large sums of money, which she gives to relatives and to the poor. Nothing is known of the woman here.

"What do you think of it?" the man asked the girl as she stood before the gate.

Slowly, scornfully, the girl surveyed the house and lawn, once beautiful, but now disfigured with large signboards proclaiming the virtues of Chee-Rup Breakfast Food.

"I think," said she forcefully, "that it is simply shameful."

"Oh, come now!" said the man. "Don't you think it rather enlivens the neighborhood? This aristocratic section of the town had seemed rather dull to me lately. By the way, how did you enjoy your trip?"

"Bob," said she severely, "don't try to change the subject. As soon as they told me what you had done while I was away I came right over here to persuade you to take them all down."

"Impossible!" he cried. "I've got a contract. You wouldn't want me to break a contract, would you?"

No, she wouldn't want him to do that. One of the nicest things about Bob was his trustworthiness. Moreover, she didn't know whether the law would allow him to break it.

"Oh, Bob," she cried in sorrow, "what made you put up these unsightly things? Can't you see how they spoil the looks of the whole street? From our veranda we look directly at that big yellow one. Why be blue? Eat Chee-Rup Breakfast Food and be happy."

There were tears in her eyes. "Oh," she continued, "I was thinking how happy I'd be to see the dear old home again, and then you must spoil it all! Oh, Bob!"

Bob felt decidedly uncomfortable, yet happier than he had for several months. She had been homesick, not of course, for him—that was impossible—but for the town as a whole, and he was a part of it. But to show his joy might spoil the plan, and it was too early in the game to risk anything.

"So," he said, carefully controlling his voice to the tones of polite interest—"so you did miss us!"

Miss them! She thought how intensely she had missed them—and him. Yes, Bob! During the three months of her absence she had come to long for the sound of his voice, the merry laugh in his eyes. How happy she had felt when she saw him at the station the night before! Not that she meant to show her change of feeling toward him. She had refused him too emphatically before failing to willingly acknowledge that she had made a mistake. For a time she would not acknowledge it even to herself.

But she had never thought that Bob would so destroy the beauty of his home, the home she had learned to love.

"Bob," said she again, ignoring his last question, "why did you do it?"

"I'm leaving here soon," he said, outwardly calm.

"Leaving here?" she gasped.

"Yes," he answered nonchalantly. "I'm going to the city to be nearer my business, and as I don't care to sell this place or rent it I thought I ought to think up some way of making it pay the taxes at least."

"Oh, Bob!" she cried tearfully, ambiguously. "How could you?" Then she ran precipitately to her own home.

Bob gazed after her dubiously. Perhaps her father was right, but he doubted it. Of course she had always loved Bob's place, and her ideals of beauty were both sensitive and militant. The house and yard certainly did look a sight too. The plan was worth trying. Bob felt that anything that might make her reconsider her answer to the great question which he had propounded to her was worth trying, and the income derived from the ads. was not inconsiderable. The papers had devoted a great deal of space to the discussion of the signboards being installed on such beautiful private property, and consequently the Chee-Rup food had received a great quantity of free advertising.

That night at dinner the girl informed her family that Bob was planning to move to town.

"Ah," said her father, "I heard he had a young woman on the string down there. He is very attentive to her, they say. Of course I wouldn't tell you if I thought that there was any possibility of your reconsidering the answer you gave Bob in the spring. You can't blame the boy for seeking consolation, and they say that she is very wealthy."

The girl forced herself to eat her salad calmly. So that was the reason he had taken her homecoming so easily. Another woman had captured his fancy. Well, she would keep her secret.

The next day Bob came over to the house for a conference with her father. Meeting him in the hallway, she questioned him as to the day of his departure, although she hated herself for doing it.

"Oh, in about a month!" said Bob indifferently and truthfully.

How different from the way he used to speak to her, she thought.

During that month Bob made many trips to the city, and each morning the girl woke up to gaze from her windows at the signs with a deep accentuation of the hatred with which she had regarded them on the first day of her return. To her they began to seem the personification of the woman that had taken Bob from her—the cold, calculating business spirit. How she hated those signs! It seemed to her as if she would do anything to get rid of them. Must she live within their sight all her life, constantly reminding her of the love she had lost? The thought was unendurable, and she appealed to her father.

"I can't do anything," said he. "Bob has a contract with the Chee-Rup company, and he must live up to it. If only you had been kind to him this wouldn't have happened. To my mind it only shows what good sense Bob has. This place has no more attractions for him, so why not make it yield an income?"

The evening before the day set by Bob for his departure he called. The girl was seated on her veranda as far as possible from the sight of the signboards. Her parents had gone out for the evening, and she received Bob with a strange, sinking feeling. This might be the last time he would come to see her—alone.

"Bob," said she when he had seated himself at a safe distance—"Bob, now that you are going away, probably forever, can't you do something about those awful signboards?"

He regarded her quizzically.

"I wish I could," said he, "but you see the Chee-Rup company's contract runs for ten years, and the advertisement has proved to be so good that they would not release me unless I paid a sum of money that would absolutely break me."

Ten years! A life time!

"Bob," she cried impulsively, "I would be willing to do anything to get rid of those dreadful signs!"

Bob looked at her quickly. This was his hour. Her father and mother had even encouraged him to hope, but he hesitated at waging his happiness on a short sentence. Nevertheless he must make the plunge some time, and the present moment seemed as propitious as any.

"So you would really like to get rid of them?" he asked. "Well, I believe we could arrange that with the company satisfactorily if you could reconsider your decision of some months ago."

She looked at him unsteadily.

"Why, Bob," she said, "I believe that you are asking me to marry you again!"

"That's just what I am doing," he said excitedly. "What's your answer?"

"But that other woman!" she cried.

He gazed at her in well simulated amazement.

"What other woman?" he asked.

"That wealthy one in the city—that business woman whom my father said you had on the string."

Bob smiled broadly.

"You evidently misunderstood in what connection I had her on the string. We are going to sell her the business."

The girl looked at him happily.

"If that's the case," said she, "I suppose I might change my answer to that question if you are sure about taking down those signs. You mustn't sacrifice a lot of money to those people, Bob. We'll need some."

"No, I'll not," said he as he folded her in his arms. "You see, your father and I happen to be the Chee-Rup Breakfast Food company, although we are on the point of selling the business to that woman in the city, and so, I guess, there will be no trouble about having that contract annulled."

Italians and Wheat Flour.

The Italian housewives of the poorer classes seem to have one unchangeable recipe for baking. Agents of charitable societies have found this out by the women always asking for a certain number of pounds of flour, just enough for one baking, in their grocery lists. They make the flour into a number of loaves, which, put into one pan, bake into one great loaf. The size of the family seems to make no difference. If the family is small, the bread simply lasts a little longer and gets a little drier. The bread is very good when fresh. They do not use as much yeast as American cooks, and the bread is very crusty, something on the order of French bread. The poorest families also use a great deal of "polenta." This is merely flour stirred into boiling water, after the manner of old fashioned American "basty pudding," only that flour is used instead of cornmeal. No people in the world are so devoted to wheat flour as the Italians. Whether in the form of bread, polenta or the omnipresent macaroni, it forms the bulk of their diet.—New York Globe.

A very pleasant surprise was given the members of the High school last Thursday when the Superintendent announced that in lieu of the usual Christmas treat, they were all invited to spend Friday evening from 8 to 11 at the Haslop hotel. At the appointed hour the invited guests began to arrive, and soon all were busy playing various games and listening to music furnished by local talent. At 10 o'clock the young men were requested to find their partners and move to the dining room where quite an elaborate three-course supper was served. After the "inner man" had been satisfied, the games and music were resumed, and it was only when the midnight approached that the guests were constrained to leave for their homes, glad that they had been present. EMPIRE MODE IN CARACUL.

That caracul is to prove fur and away the most stylish fur of the season is already an adopted fact a foregone conclusion. One sees it everywhere in all sorts of conjunctions and fashioned into garments of every conceivable style, shape and size that may find a place upon the current catalogue of fashion. White gray and shadings of brown—a curious combination of gray, brown and yellow this latter shade is, and one that really defies a verbal description—are much used; but the black dye, with which we are familiar, really makes for the richest effect. The short-waisted Empire effect is employed to delightful advantage in this glossy and irregularly marked fur. The body part is loosely fitted, and one is likely to welcome the return of the Proud of the Twins.

Mr. H. H. Harris, chief clerk in one of their yard offices of their B. & O., was the recipient of a number of handsome Christmas presents, chief of which was a pair of twins, given by his Masonic friends.

Poor Market Wednesday.

The cold weather or the celebration of Christmas, perhaps both,
caused Wednesday morning's market
to look like a joke. Usually the north side of Main street, between Third and Fourth, is lined on market
mornings with wagons loaded with country produce. On December 26 just three wagons were counted,
and even these were not thronged with buyers.

To Whom It May Concern.

and cases of gross neglect in not having horses properly shod in icy weather, have come to the notice of the Humane Society. All teamsters and persons driving horses, are warned that to drive a horse not properly
shod over the city streets, is a crime or misdemeanor, and will be dealt

Gold Headed Cane.

Mr. John Duncan, who has been in the employ of the United States Express company in this city for many years, and who recently had one of his legs broken and was otherwise injured by a heavy casting falling from a car on him, was given the greatest surprise of his life at the B.
& O. depot on Christmas. His fellow clerks surrounded him on the platform, and presented him with a fine gold headed cane. Although greatly surprised, Mr. Duncan managed to thank his fellow employees, assuring them that the gift was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Eli Bell's illness.

Mrs. Eli Bell, a well known wo-ill on Sunday with appendicitis, and Drs. Mitchell and Wiyarch remained

tion, however, became so serious that it was necessary to remove her to the City Hospital, where it was thought that an operation would be necessary.
After being taken to the hospital her condition became somewhat improved and the attending physicians are now hopeful that she will recover without the necessity of an operation.

And Mr. Reagan is Happy.

December 26 was the anniversary of the birth of Mr. S. A. Reagan, of 76 Dewey avenue, and his wife presented him with a fine baby boy, weighing nine and a half pounds, as a birthday present.

Christmas Presents.

The stork delivered Christmas presents as follows: To Mr. and Mrs. William Burton, corner of Lawrence and Burton, twin girls; to Mr.
and Mrs. Frank Horler, 495 South
Second street, a 10 1-2 pound girl.

Engagement is Announced.

At a family dinner party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S.
Wright on Christmas day, Mrs. C. B.
Martin informally announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Isabelle Martin of Bryce, O., to Dr.
Clark B. Hatch of this city.

Splendid Lunch.

One of the most appetizing lunches
ever served in the city was that prepared by the Schaller Brother, the popular and up to date restaurateurs, on Christmas day. One of the features of the lunch was the serving of raw oysters from a solid block of ice.

At Day Nursery.

The King's Daughters' Day Nur-ery celebrated Christmas with an elaborate dinner for the 10 regular boarders and numerous gifts, candies
and toys for about 30 day children.
Fifteen dolls sent from Massillon, O., toys from the Powers-Miller company and A. H. Heisey and other presents from local circles of the society, assisted in making the little ones happy.

Heavy Christmas Travel.

Monday was a busy day for travelers, railroad officials and employees on both the steam and interurban lines
and the travel continued all through Tuesday. It is estimated that from Monday noon until Tuesday night
about 12,000 people came and went to and from Newark over railroads and interurban lines. Trains were loaded all day Wednesday with homeward bound Christmas visitors.

Christmas Collections.

Notwithstanding the Christmas
drain on pocketbooks, collectors
about town report collections good Wednesday. An Advocate man says that almost every person he visited Wednesday paid promptly. In one case a good housewife tendered a $20
bill to the collector in the presence of her husband. The blow almost killed the head of the family who had gone for Christmas gifts.

Two Operations.

Two B. & O. employees underwent operations at the Sanitarium Tuesday, the operations being performed
by Drs. Barnes and Shirer. M. W.
Owens, a brakeman, injured six weeks ago, receiving severe injuries
to one of his legs, had missing skin grafted on the injured member from his other leg. Richard Raison, a molder, who was also injured six weeks ago, had a bone removed from his left foot. Both men are improving nicely.

Clyde Crilly Goes to Mexico.

Clyde Crilly will leave Wednesday night for Mexico, where he expects to secure a railway position under Superintendent Wm. Sheridan, a former Newark man. Mr. Crilly, who is the son of ex-Mayor A. J. Crilly, has for several years been connected with the circulation department of the Advocate, and his work has brought him in close touch with a large percentage of the Newark people. Mr.
Crilly has many friends here who regret his departure, but who at the same time wish him abundant success
in his new work.

New Restaurant.

Mr. W. O. Whiteman and son, formerly well known employees of the Wehrle company, have announced their intention of opening a new first class restaurant in the Stasel block, South Second street, to be run in connection with the Stasel hotel. The Messrs. Whiteman are experienced caterers who have arranged to suit the tastes of the most exacting patrons.
A fine line of new furniture and fixtures is being installed and the new eating hall will be opened to the public by Friday or Saturday, when the first meals will be served. Popular prices are to prevail.

stract company met in regular annual

at 30 1-2 South Third street, Monday afternoon and elected the following board of directors: Charles L.
Flory, Charles W. Montgomery, Roderick Jones, Ralph Norpell and R. L.
Taneyhill. The board of directors organized with the following officers:
President, Roderick Jones; vice president, Charles L. Flory; secretary-treasurer, Charles W. Montgomery.

This company owns a complete abstract of all the real estate records of

ban and city lines, are to be increased on January 1, 1907. The increase in wages will be from one to two cents per hour, according to length of service of the employee, and means an additional expenditure on the part of the company of between seven and eight thousand dollars per year. This makes the fourth time the wages of the men have been increased within the past four years.

COUNTRESS MUST PAY
THESE TWO CLAIMS

Paris, Dec. 26.—Madame Anna Gould, formerly the Countess De Castellane,
was today held liable to pay jointly with Count Boni, two claims of creditors. The claim of Mlle. Namdoff, who sold diamonds valued at $24,000,
to Boni was allowed against the former husband and wife co-jointly. Boni declared the jewels were given to the former countess. Another claim sustained was that of M. Hartog, a jeweler, as the delivery of certain jewels was proved.

ARE YOU FOOD WISE?

Do You Select With Care What You Eat—The Maximum of Strength
For the Minimum of Cost?

The Following Will Be of Interest.

All scientists agree that the cereals are man's natural food, and that the nearer we live to nature the healthier and happier we are and the longer we may live.

To keep pace with the food requirements of the age is the constant study
of those whose business it is to supply
the same.

Cereal foods are the cheapest and best to eat and Hardyfood is the one that is selected by the food wise.

Hardyfood is made from the choicest selected grains and is prepared by new and original methods with rigid care
and cleanliness.

Those portions of the grain which produce harmful results are discarded and only those elements needed for brain, nerve, bone and muscle building are retained.

Hardyfood is especially beneficial to those with impaired digestion and is the only prepared food from which the excess of starch and glucose has been eliminated.

Hardyfood is so easily digested that it can be eaten by the aged, young people and the dyspeptic, and should be their principal meal every day.

A box of Hardyfood contains as much nutrition as five pounds of beef.
Instead of starving if ill, live exclusively on Hardyfood for thirty days, avoiding all medicines, and you will get back into a healthy condition.

Too great a variety in food is the cause of much illness and discomfort.
A simple diet is best.

1776—Battle of Trenton.
1811—The Richmond theater burned, and many lives lost; first calamity of that nature in the United States. The Richmond theater stood upon the site of the Monumental church, erected as a public memorial for the victims. About 70 perished, among them the governor of the state and many people of prominence.
1853—Great fire in New York and famous clipper ship Republic destroyed.
1886—General John A. Logan died in Washington; born 1826.
1894—Dr. William Detmold, eminent German-American surgeon, died in New York city; born in Hannover 1846.
1905—Desperate fighting in the streets of Moscow between troops and striking revolutionists.

ADVOCATE'S COLUMNS STILL OPEN.

Since the attempt to expend $300 out of the city treasury to hire a Columbus newspaper to boost the latest proposed water works bond issue turned out such an ill-fated fiasco, the question has continued to grow in the public mind as to how that explanation is to be made showing why the question was not submitted at the general election. The importance of this matter has received an additional impetus since it is known that the total number of 7 voters was registered for the special election at the cost of $42.85 per voter. But the Advocate is still printed at the old stand, gentlemen, and again it offers you its columns so that you can let the people know all about it.

President Roosevelt maintains that he would have discharged white soldiers for the very same offense as that for which the negro troops were dismissed. And no one believes that Senator Foraker would enter into the war he is making on the President if white soldiers had been dismissed for the same offense.

At the last election for members of the Board of Education in Dayton a Democrat was elected to represent the Eighth ward, which is Democratic by about 800 under normal conditions. The board was composed of eleven Republicans and one Democrat who died recently, and the board proceeded the other evening to elect a member to fill the vacancy. Instead of electing a Democrat to succeed a Democrat from a Democratic ward and thereby respect the rights of the majority as expressed at the election, the eleven Republicans elected a member of their own party, making the board solidly Republican in a city of 100,000 people, about half of whom are Democrats. No non-partisan school board, thank you, is tolerated by the type of Republican bosses that rule things in Dayton.

WHAT AUTHORITY

Had Service Board to Radically Change Water Works Plans at Greatly Increased Cost?

Editor Advocate—I have read the statement in your paper of the large list of streets that are not to be supplied with pipe under the first $300,000 bond issue. No doubt the service board paraded these streets in print to show why the taxpayers should be bonded for $230,000 more. Many of these advertised streets, which are now out in the cold, were on the plans under which the first issue of bonds was made. Now the question is, where did the present service board get the authority to radically change the original plans for distribution of pipe and in many other respects, increasing the additional cost, and making new terms with the contractors.

Hood's

Was it by authority of the City Council? It so, when was this resolution passed? What right had the board of service in their action, in, as was supposed, the removal of the obnoxious pipes from obstructing some of the streets, to take these pipes and redistribute them on streets not covered by the original plans and only anticipated in the new bond issue? Do the taxpayers generally know that several hundred feet of this pipe has been laid in the ground, and (as I understand) in a mechanical way condemned, causing the sub-contractors to be discharged? Can such a board be trusted with the management of so important a contract? CITIZEN.

STRENGTH COMES

Not From What You Eat, But From What You Digest.

Most people eat most foods without discrimination—it matters little what. Few stop to think what that food does for them. This is the first turn on the road to dyspepsia. Reckless disregard of the proper choice of foods, rapid eating and improper mastication, are the unquestioned causes of all stomach disorders from the slight ache to the malignant cancer.

There is nothing more revolting than a dyspeptic stomach—a very vat for putrefaction, sending forth its poison throughout the entire system, depressing the brain, befouling the breath, souring the taste, deadening the muscles, incapacitating the liver and kidneys for their work, debilitating the heart, choking the lungs and clogging the bowels.

All of these disagreeable and dangerous conditions are due to the improper digestion of food and the consequent assimilation of poison. What else can be expected? If the food lies in the stomach, if the system is constipated, fermentation is the natural outcome. It shows itself in sour watery risings, belchings, heartburn and painful breathing.

There is only one way to relieve this condition. If the stomach refuses to digest your food put something into it that will. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing but digestives. They are not a medicine. They work when the stomach will not.

Each tablet contains enough pepsin diastase, golden seal and other digestive elements to reduce 3,000 grains of ordinary food to the proper consistency for assimilation into the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely pure. There is nothing harmful in them as shown in their endorsement by 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada.
Ask your family physician his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and if he is honest toward you he will state positively that they will cure your stomach trouble whatever it may be, unless you have waited too long and have allowed your disorder to develop into cancer.

Act today and begin to end your suffering. A free trial package will be sent to your address upon request. The 50 cent size packages are for sale at your druggists'. F. A. Stuart Co., 67 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

TROLLEY CAR IS HIT BY TRAIN

A GRADE CROSSING TRAGEDY IS ENACTED AT ASHTABULA CHRISTMAS DAY.

One Killed and Fourteen Hurt—A Street Car Demolished—Crossing Gates Not Down.

Ashtabula, O., Dec. 26. — The Buffalo-Pittsburg flyer struck a trolley car on the Ashtabula Rapid Transit line at the Lake street grade crossing of the Lake Shore railroad. The streetcar was demolished. One person was killed and 14 injured. The dead: Leonard Newbold of Ashtabula, aged 17.

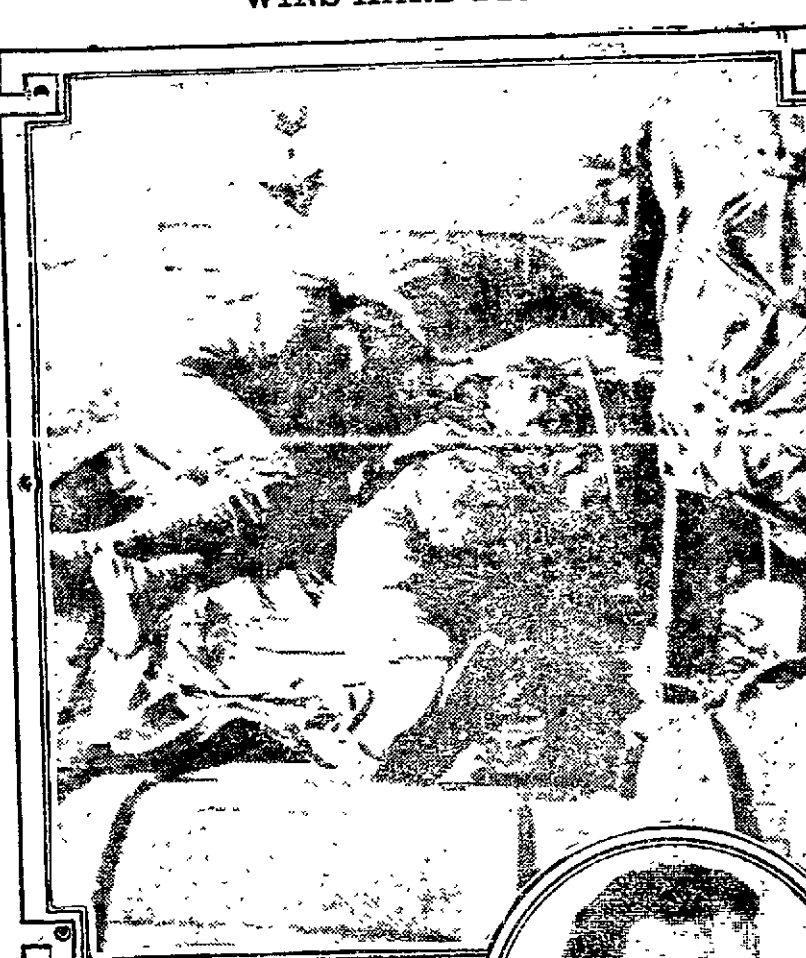

The injured: C. J. Bullock and William Raimbhart of Painesville; Robert Baptiste, Erie, Pa.; William Cook, Jasper Horton, Mrs. James Whelpley, James Whelpley, Mrs. Horace Johnson, Clayton Gardner, Mrs. Clayton Jenkins, Frank Capitani, John Capitani, Rosalie Jeirgin, A. Cosino and Rowley Newbold, all of Ashtabula.

The crossing gates, it is alleged, were not down when the car approached. While crossing the tracks the train struck the car almost in the middle and carried it nearly 300 feet. Some of the injured had to be extricated from beneath the wreckage. All the ambulances and many physicians were summoned to the scene. Newbold lived about four hours. Both legs and one arm were severed.

Mrs. Cora Naylor, wife of a prominent farmer residing near Mt. Carmel, Ill., burned to death. Her clothing caught fire from a stove.

Henry and William Munger, 27, twins, were run down and killed at a Grand Trunk crossing by a passenger train near Vicksburg, Mich.

ALASKA'S FIRST DELEGATE TO CONGRESS WINS HARD FIGHT.

FRANK WASKEY, DELEGATE TO CONGRESS FROM ALASKA.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 26.—The candidate for public office at the close of the campaign usually gets away from the scene of his recent conflict after some fashion or other. He will go gunning or fishing, or otherwise put behind him the scenes of his success or discomfiture. The illustration shows how Frank H. Waskey, Alaska's first delegate to Congress, spent his post campaign days.

Representative Waskey's figure in the picture is the recumbent form, with arms folded, lying on the deck, close to the rail of the little vessel, the Behring Sea steamer, Flyer, which plies between Nome and Solomon.

The snapshot was taken about two weeks after Mr. Waskey's election, in the fall. He is a well known miner and a famous "musher," and, after the busy days of the campaign, took a long "mush" into the Bonanza river district in company with "Andy" Lang and Samuel Archer. His primary object was to escape the importunities of the politicians, while a casual inspection of certain mining property was planned.

He reached Solomon, on the return trip, after a continuous walk of more than forty miles across the rough tundra and immediately boarded the flyer for his home at Nome.

Dog-tired, he lay down on the deck and went to sleep. Archer caught him and Lang in the positions shown. Mr. Waskey will render a good service for the territory of Alaska, the whole of which he represents.

Some idea of the magnitude of the congressional district which he had to stump can be gathered from the fact that Alaska is more than twice as large as all of the New England States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia.

BY FIRE

Shipbuilding Plant Is Attacked and Heavy Damage Done.

Newport News, Va., Dec. 26.—A large frame and sheet-iron building, containing the carpenter, sheet-iron and pipefitters' shop and riggers' and molders' shops, was destroyed at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dock company's plant. The Old Dominion liner Jefferson, which is being repaired in the drydock, was damaged to the extent of $10,000. It is estimated that the total loss will amount to $200,000, and will be fully covered by insurance. Eddie Eddins, a fireman, was struck by a falling telegraph pole and fatally wounded. His skull was crushed and a redhot wire cut his throat.

Derailing Switch Turned On In Front of a Fast Train.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 26.—South-eastern railway passenger train No. 33, from Washington, was wrecked at Moncrieff, five miles from Jacksonville. The dead: John Homes, colored, fireman. Seriously injured: Engineer Uriquhart of Savannah, scalded by escaping steam. Slightly injured: J. A. Kramer, white, express messenger; J. E. Ruben, colored, express helper. Through some unexplained error the switchman in the tower turned on the derailing switch in front of the fast moving train, which caused the engine to turn turtle and threw the express car from the track.

When One Is Choking.
"Raising the left arm as high as you can will relieve choking much more rapidly than being thumped on the back," said one of the resident physicians of a local hospital. "This should be more generally known, for often a person gets choked while eating when there is no one near to thump him or her. Very frequently at meals and when they are at play children get choked while eating, and the customary manner of relieving them is to slap them sharply on the back. The effect of this is to set the obstruction free, so that it can be swallowed. The same thing can be brought about by raising the left hand of the child as high as possible, and the relief comes much more rapidly. In happenings of this kind there should be no alarm, for if a child sees that older persons or parents get excited it is very liable to become so also. The best thing is to tell the child to raise its left arm, and immediately the obstruction passes down the throat."—Philadelphia Record.

Humors of Translation.

Victor Hugo always translated the Fifth of North as "the First of the Fourth" and swore that he was right, too, while Disraeli noted with amusement "woebegone" as "doulour vament." An early translator of Scott's "Bride of Lammermoor" had it as "La Bride de Lammermoor," the second word meaning "bride," and the same man rendered "Welsh rabbit" by "Lapin du Pays de Galles." The case of "La Derniere Chemise de l'Amour" for "Love's Last Shift" is classic, and when the farce "Hit or Miss" was done into French it almost was billed as "Frappe on Mademoiselle." That delightful piece in which Toole was at his funniest, "Walker, London," was referred to in a French newspaper as "Londres qui se Promene." The best that the translator could do for the "Stickit Minister" was "Le Ministre Assassine."

Buying a Gift Book.

The principle of choice should in general follow the taste or need of the friend for whom you are selecting a book. Yet it is also well now and then to open a new channel of interest by giving a volume outside of your friend's habitual line. We are often thankful to a friend who has drawn us out of our mental sheep tracks. There are a few writers that stand as permanent figures in the modern literary world—writers who have given out seminal ideas that seed and beautify the field of thought. Chief among these men are Shakespeare, Carlyle, Ruskin, Emerson and Victor Hugo. Until a library possesses at least the best writings of these five men it is sadly deficient. You are doing kindly service when you make these men known to any thoughtful mind.—Edwin Markham in Success.

Met His Match.

Rev. Matthew Wilkes, a celebrated London preacher, was caught in a shower in the famous Billingsgate market, where the profanity of the women who sell fish there is proverbial. As he stepped under a shed among them he felt called upon to at least give his testimony against their wickedness.

"Don't you think," said he, speaking with the greatest deliberation and solemnity, "I shall appear as a swift witness against you in the day of judgment?"

"I presume so," said one, "for the biggest rogue always turns state's evidence."

Wood at $8 a Pound.

"French walnut is the finest wood we have," said the cabinetmaker. "It comes from Persia, but it is prepared in France. I have seen French walnut worth $8 a pound, and it is a common thing to pay $2 a pound for it. Of course it is used principally for veneering. Only millionaires could have chairs and tables of solid French walnut. Mahogany, wonderful as it is, rarely fetches such high prices. From $2 to $3 is a very good price per pound for this wood. Ebony, if it is a particularly large piece, so that it will cut well, will often bring $5 a pound in the wood market."

CHARGE ABUSES IN CONGO STATE

Pierpont Morgan and Others Address Letter to Secretary Root.

URGE CORRECTION OF ILLS

Say the United States Would Be Justified in Giving Its Moral Support to Any Undertaking to Secure Betterment of Conditions in That Portion of Africa.

New York, Dec. 26. — Secretary Root's attention has been directed to conditions in the Congo Free State in a letter signed by J. Pierpont Morgan, Dr. Lyman Abbott and other prominent men of this city. It is stated in the communication that "flagrant inhumanity" exists in the Congo and Mr. Root is urged on behalf of the American people to use the "moral support" of the United States government to correct the abuses the Congo natives are alleged to be suffering from.

The letter reads:
"Over a year has passed since the report of the commissioners chosen by the chief executive and virtual owner of the Congo to investigate conditions in that state was published. In spite of their natural desire to give all possible credit to their sovereign the commissioners felt constrained to report the existence of measures and practices of flagrant inhumanity. Among these measures and practices are the following:

"The exaction of a labor so oppressive that many natives on whom it falls have little if any freedom; appropriation of land to such an extent that the natives are practically prisoners within their own territory; the employment under authority of the government as sentries of cruel, brutish blacks, chosen from hostile tribes, who murder, pillage and rape the people for whose protection the government is avowedly established; the abuse of the natives by white representatives of officially recognized companies; the binding of little children to years of labor at uncertain wages by contracts they do not understand, and even more serious maltreatment of children supposedly under the immediate care of the government; great injustice in the administration of the courts, so that the natives dread the name of Boma, the place where the judicial system is centralized; the sending out of punitive expeditions, not for the purpose of establishing peace and order, but for the purpose of terrifying the natives into paying a tax which, as administered, even the commissioners regard as inhuman.

"It is to be remembered that these are not charges brought against the Congo government, but findings of the commission appointed by the chief executive of the government to investigate and report on the facts. Acting upon these findings, a second commission, also appointed by the king, has recommended measures of reform. No steps have been taken to adopt them. There is no evidence that the Congo government is undertaking seriously to remember these evils. These powers which created the Congo government have clearly a right to call that government to account. Inasmuch as the United States gave its moral support to the establishment of the Congo government it is justified in giving its moral support to any undertaking to secure conditions in the Congo that will not disgrace civilization. We wish to assure you that for any measure you may adopt in order to give the powers such moral support of the United States, you will have our earnest and urgent approval."

FED THE LOWLY.

Work of Timothy Sullivan, Salvation Army and Bowery Mission.

New York, Dec. 26.—New York celebrated the most bounteous Christmas it had many years. Ideal winter weather, clear, cold and sunny, marked the day. Thirty-seven thousand of the city's poor shared in the distribution of Christmas dinners by the Salvation Army, Timothy D. Sullivan and the Bowery mission. Five thousand baskets and 1,000 bags, each containing a fowl and "fixings" sufficient for a family of five persons or more, were distributed by Commander Eva Booth. More than 6,000 of the homeless of the East Side partook of Christmas dinner at the Timothy D. Sullivan association rooms in the Bowery. No distinctions were made between applicants, except that the lame and the blind were given preference. The majority of those who came for food were evidently in sad need of clothing, for many were without overcoats and hundreds wore only the remnants of shoes. The day was bitterly cold. As each man departed from the hall a pouch full of tobacco, a pipe and a ticket for a pair of shoes was given him, and then the hall was cleared for the admission of another group.

GENERAL NEWS OF BUCKEYEDOM

SULTANA COMMISSION ADVISED TO TAKE NO FURTHER AC- TION JUST NOW.

Life Man Pardoned—Shooting at Columbus—Edw. Swisher Elected President at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Dec. 26.—Governor Harris in a letter to the Sultana commission advises that it take no further action toward the erection of the monument until its power to locate it in the statehouse yard is more thoroughly defined by the legislature. He bases his recommendation to that effect on the report made by Attorney General Ellis of his investigation of the charges and counter charges of bribery against the various members. The charges were not sustained, however, as the investigation brought out nothing but a mass of denials and contradictions. Dr. W. P. Madden of Xenia, L. J. Cutter of Marietta and J. J. Zetsler of Canton comprise the Sultana commission.

Life Man Pardoned.
Columbus, O., Dec. 26.—Through the recommendation of Warden Gould and a number of state officials the annual Christmas pardon to a life convict in the penitentiary was granted to Harry Jones by Governor Harris. Jones, who is colored and has been "house boy" for Warden Gould, has served eight years of a life sentence for murder. Jones was admitted in November, 1898, and at that time was only 19 years old. He killed his mistress, a woman much older than himself, in a quarrel in the streets of Cincinnati.

Another Killing.
Columbus, O., Dec. 26.—Henry Herb, an iron worker, was shot and killed by Constable E. J. Jeffries in a saloon in South Columbus. Witnesses of the tragedy say the constable acted in self-defense. The constable had been asked to quiet Herb, who was disorderly. Later Herb returned and attacked the constable. The officer, who is a smaller man, was felled, and while his antagonist was pummeling him managed to draw his revolver and fired a bullet into Herb's heart. Jeffries was arrested.

Struck by a Freight Train.
Springfield, O., Dec. 26.—An east-bound Big Four passenger train, No. 26, ran into the rear of a freight train in the western part of the city. The list of injured includes 13 passengers, none seriously. The crew of the passenger train jumped. The most seriously injured are: Mrs. Alice King, Osborne, O., cut about face; Susie Kallier, Osborne, O., back injured, and cut about face; Mrs. Mary Redmond, Osborne, O., hurt about legs. Three freight cars were demolished.

Missing Lad Dead.
Marysville, O., Dec. 26.—Earl Lowe, son of John Lowe of Dover township, who mysteriously disappeared from home last Thursday morning with a shotgun on his shoulder, was found in the Taylor woods, half a mile from his home, by his brother, Joseph Lowe. He was lying face down, frozen stiff, his shotgun by his side. The young man was subject to epileptic fits and it is thought he was attacked by one of these.

Died in Gotham.
Gallipolis, O., Dec. 26.—Lat Talbot, a telegraph operator, 35, was found dead in bed in New York in a furnished room. In his hand was found a letter pitiful in its terms from his mother in this city, telling of the death of his older brother on Dec. 7. Talbot had died apparently from natural causes and evidences were found of internal hemorrhages.

Eighty Thousand in Purses.
Columbus, O., Dec. 26.—After electing officers, including Edward W. Swisher as president, directors of the Columbus Driving Park company went on record as being in favor of expansion when they instructed the secretary to ask for dates that will keep the Grand Circuit campaigners of 1907 in Columbus for two weeks from Sept. 15 to 27, inclusive. The board has been given to understand that no meeting will be given next fall at Oakley park in Cincinnati. Therefore it is proposed to add the week that has been Oakley's heretofore to the regular Columbus week. About one-twelfth of one million dollars will be offered in stakes and purses. Plans as now outlined call for the hanging up of an even $30,000.

Neat Xmas Present.
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 26.—Nearly $10,000 was given by the Bell Telephone company to the 600 girls in the employ of the company as Christmas presents. The distribution amounts to 6 per cent of the amount of salary each girl has earned within the last year, and in a number of cases the present approximated $50.

BOWLING.

The Strollers and the Consumers will bowl on the Music Hall alleys tonight. This game was scheduled for January 3, but a Columbus team will be in Newark on that date for a game on the Music Hall alleys.

Some of the best ten pin scores of the season have been made on the Music Hall alleys this week for the prizes offered by the management. Thomas started with 207 and Dolan raised it to 230. Mussel scored 232 and 240, and Dr. Barrick raised it two points more, making the high score thus far 242. C. May holds the high quintet record for the week, 68.

The individual ten pin tourney given by the Music Hall management will commence December 27. This is the big bowling event of the season.

The ten pin contest between Newark and Cambridge for $100 on the side, will be finished by the two teams on the afternoon of January 1. Newark was beaten by a small margin and the local men hope to get these pins back and win out in the finals.

The two man contest in quintet on the Hayes alleys Christmas morning was an exciting event, it being necessary to roll an extra frame to decide the contest. The players were "Soapy" Gaio and Joe Spanarks, the latter winning by one pin. Score: Joe Spanarks . . . 40 48 45 133 "Soapy" Gaio . . . 47 41 45 133

HER LOVE GROWS COLD

Springfield Girl Changes Mind on Wedding Day After Six Weeks' Engagement.

Springfield, O., Dec. 26.—A Christmas romance was blighted when, after an engagement of six weeks, Grace Kershner changed her mind, and John Reed of Galena, Ill., who came here Sunday evening to marry her Christmas day, returned home broken-hearted. Miss Kershner is a beautiful girl, the daughter of John Kershner, a former member of the board of public service and of a prominent Lagonda family. She gives no reason save that she did not love him as much as she thought she did.

Locomotive of a southbound Missouri Pacific freight train jumped the track at Oropolis, Neb., and turned over, killing Fletcher W. Kirk, fireman, and Julius K. Miller head brakeman.

HER BROKEN ENGAGEMENT LEADS TO $150,000 GIFT.

Mrs. James L. Kernochan

New York, Dec. 26.—Bowling to the wishes of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jas. L. Kernochan broke an engagement which Mrs. Catherine L. Kernochan did not approve of. In recognition of her daughter-in-law's respect for her wishes the elder Mrs. Kernochan made her a Christmas gift of $150,000, the same as she is giving to her daughter, Mrs. Herbert C. Pell. In addition to the money, Mrs. Kernochan has also presented Mrs. Pell with a house. Mrs. James L. Kernochan, who was Miss Eloise Stevenson, is the widow of the only son of Mrs. Catherine Kernochan. The attachment between the two women has been much closer since last March, when the younger woman broke an engagement of which her mother-in-law did not approve. The Christmas present which Mrs. James L. Kernochan has received is a result of her decision not to wed.

DAY'S BUSINESS IN COURT HOUSE

JUDGE BRISTER REFUSES TO GIVE HAMPSHIRE DIVORCE PRAYED FOR.

But Allows His Wife $25 a Month
Alimony—Black-Wright Case Resumed.

The case of Emily Hampshire against Oliver Hampshire, was argued before Probate Judge Brister Monday afternoon the hearing of the evidence in the case having occupied the time of the court for the three days previous. The plaintiff, Emily Hampshire, by her attorney, P. B. Smythe, filed a petition in the Probate court some time ago asking for alimony from her husband, Oliver Hampshire on the ground of infidelity neglect of duty and cruelty. The defendant Oliver Hampshire, filed an answer and cross-petition in which he asked for a decree of divorce on the grounds of infidelity and cruelty. The parties to the suit were married 31 years and have six children, all of whom are living and married except the oldest and several grandchildren. Oliver Hampshire is one of the foremen in the Pratt-Kirk planing mill and is well known in the community. Five of the children appeared as witnesses in the case, the sixth one being sick. Four of the five who testified made strong witnesses for the mother, while the fifth, who is the oldest daughter, keeping house for her father, was more favorable to the mother than the father in her evidence. The court after hearing all the evidence and argument of counsel refused the prayer of the defendant for divorce and granted alimony to the plaintiff, Mrs. Hampshire, in the sum of $25 per month on the ground of infidelity and cruelty.

Decision Reserved.
The Probate court Monday morning was occupied in hearing the case of Emma J. Spicer against Phoebe E. Lonniss, which was an application for a guardian for Phoebe E. Lonniss, by her sister, Mrs. Spicer, on the ground that she was an imbecile and not capable of taking proper care of her business. A number of witnesses were examined on both sides at the previous hearing on Saturday, and the case was argued to the court by P. B. Smythe, attorney for the application and by Edward Kibler, attorney for the defendant. The court reserved its decision.

In Common Pleas.
In Common Pleas court Wednesday the trial of the case of Black vs. Wright was resumed. The testimony of George Shinnick was taken. Mr. Shinnick was secretary at the time the electric road was operated by Daves. The testimony of W. S. Wright was also taken.

Green Divorce Suit.
Lillian Green sues Homer Green for divorce, alleging neglect and abandonment.
Youngstown, O., Dec. 26.—Dr. John Manning, 82, died last night after a short illness.

FEIGNED DEATH THUS THE WOMAN SAVED HER LIFE

New York, Dec. 26.—Only to her unusual presence of mind and ability to feign death, while grievously wounded, does Mrs. Lillian O'Rourke owe the fact that she is alive today. For 30 minutes the woman played her terrible part while her husband, who had shot her, stood over her with the revolver in his hand to make sure she was dead before ending his own life.

John J. O'Rourke and wife had parted but she returned to her husband, taking with her Christmas gifts. Mrs. O'Rourke threw her arms about her husband to wish him a Merry Christmas. He threw her aside, and pulling a gun fired two shots. O'Rourke carried the woman to a couch. Then he stood over her to see if she was dead. Knowing her only chance was to deceive him she held her breath and feigned death. For half an hour he waited then he blew out his own brains with the same revolver he had used on her.

HOW JUDGE SMYSER STANDS BY PRESIDENT

The way Congressman Smyser of this district "stands by Roosevelt" is indicated in the following Scripps-McRae telegram to the Advocate Wednesday afternoon:

Washington, Dec. 26.—Congressman J. L. Smyser of Ohio in an interview on the Brownsville affair today says President Roosevelt is short of evidence in that he possesses none except what has been published. He considers the fact that the Brownsville grand jury after an investigation failed to return an indictment as a strong point in favor of the negro soldiers. Judge Smyser also said: "From my experience at the bar, I know I could wish no easier case to defend than that of the members of the colored battalion, if all the evidence against them is contained in the reports of officers on which the President's order of dismissal is based. It would be the easiest thing in the world to secure their acquittal. Therefore, I repeat, in my opinion, it is strange the President should have discharged the entire battalion upon such flimsy and incomplete testimony."

For Non-Support.
Ex-Patrolman Ed Bailey was arrested by officers on an affidavit filed by his wife on a charge of non-support of his minor child. Bailey has been in Cleveland for some time and came to Newark to spend Christmas with relatives. His arrest followed. The matter will probably be adjusted.

SPLENDID WORK DONE BY ARMY

MANY OF POOR FAMILIES MADE HAPPY ON CHRISTMAS BY SALVATIONISTS.

Over Hundred Families Provided With Dinner—Sixty-Seven Tons of Coal Distributed.

Family dinners, 108.
Bushels of potatoes, 75.
Bushels of apples, 5.
Cans of vegetables and fruits, 250.
Pounds of coffee, 75.
Pounds of butter, 70.
Pounds of sugar, 80.
Pounds of meat, 165.
Chickens, 40.

The above will serve to give some idea of the extent of the work of the Salvation Army for the Christmas season for the poor of the city. On the above the schools of the city furnished over 200 cans of fruit, 10 bushels of potatoes and two bushels of apples. Members of the army worked the greater part of Monday in collecting and packing the baskets, and Captain Wilson and wife, with five others, were busy until 3 o'clock Christmas morning packing the remainder of the dinners.

In the case of each family a personal investigation was conducted in order to be sure of worthy families so that the donations would not be wasted. Each family was presented with a card or ticket which they in turn presented at the army hall on Christmas morning, and were given baskets containing enough provisions for one big meal for a family of five. It is learned that but one family was found to be imposing upon the good nature of the workers.

The exact amount of money collected by the kettles has not yet been determined, but from this amount the army intends to give a public New Year party at the hall on New Year's eve when children will be invited to the capacity of the hall. Already 100 tickets have been presented to children of the poor of the city and out of the general cash fund secured either new clothing or new shoes will be given to these. However, to every child present, the army will give a lunch, candy, nuts and toys. This will afford an opportunity for every person in the city to witness an unusual spectacle.

One of the most valuable aids of the army has just become known. A well known citizen whose name is withheld, has enabled that worthy institution to distribute over the city 67 wagon loads of coal, which is equal to 2,345 bushels. This same friend has assisted the army in providing a large supply of potatoes which owing to the extensive donations of that particular article, can not be used at present, so it has been arranged to sell the potatoes by the peck, or half peck, to the poor at the price charged the army per bushel.

A number of the most prominent citizens, realizing the wonderful good done by this earnest band of workers, have given aid which is quoted in high figures and greatly appreciated by Captain Wilson and his associates.

Defective Switch.
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 26.—A south-bound passenger train on the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad was wrecked at Gardner, eight miles west of this city, by a defective switch. Engineer Edward C. Eberle of Springfield was badly scalded and his leg broken. He is in a critical condition. Fireman Philon Phelps of Chesterfield, Ill., was also scalded.

Priest's Sudden Death.
Denison, Tex., Dec. 26.—Rev. T. K. Crowley of St. Patrick's church, while putting on his vestments to celebrate high mass, dropped dead. He had been a priest here for 15 years and was highly esteemed. He served as chaplain to a New England regiment throughout the civil war, and was state chaplain to the Grand Army of the Republic.

Hanged Himself.
Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 26.—Despondent because of the death of his wife, a year since, Peter Medjo, a contractor, reputed to be worth over $25,000, choked himself to death with a small piece of rope. His body was found hanging to a tree in a bit of woodland a mile and a half from Minnehaha Falls.

BRIDE OFF CHRISTMAS TREE.
Marion, O., Dec. 26.—William Rish literally picked a bride off a Christmas tree here last night. As the Christmas celebration was in full swing at the German M. E. church, Rev. M. Buerkle arose and announced a number not on the program. Thereupon Rish and Miss Stella Deutsch came forward and were united in matrimony. The affair was a neat surprise to their friends.

Meridian, Miss., Dec. 26.—Another special train of militia left this noon for Sebeba and will remain on the scene until the trouble is over. Col. McCanns, in command, reports the situation quiet.

Wm. Lindsay, of Conway, Ark., was weighing powder when John Massey struck a match, the head flying into the powder. Both men will die. Several others were injured. The store was wrecked.

PRES. CHRISTIAN WRITES A CARD

Head of Public Service Board Gives Figures on Water Works and Arguments for Bond Issue.

(Communicated.)

Shall we complete our Municipal Water Works System? Your attention is called to these facts:

First: By a vote of the people, the city determined the question of municipal ownership of water works, so that cannot enter as a factor in deciding the question.

Second: Upon the authority so given, a contract was entered into on October 4th, 1905, with the American Light and Water company for the construction of a portion of the water works system. This condition we cannot help but carry out. What should we suggest? Finish the contract and stop?

Or, should we arrange to complete it at the earliest possible time? Since the dissolving of the injunction proceedings, the Board has done everything that could be done to complete the work. The securing of new consulting engineers, their negotiating the change of pumps, stack, etc., have all consumed time, as contractors usually are loath to change a contract they already have, especially when you want more for your money.

Then every manufactory is loaded down with work and because of the injunction, all the contractors on the work have taken up other contracts, and consequently it was hard to get them started. We had pipe on our streets, but it could not be laid because the specials were lacking; they are now here, and the work will be crowded as fast as the weather will permit.

Because of the condition of the market and to secure the earliest use of our plant, we believe the opportunity time to settle the question is now. The filtration plant and reservoir can be completed by the time the station and distribution system are completed, and we can at once furnish domestic as well as fire service. The most vital point in a successful city is security from fire. Today we are a one main city, every one interested what a serious loss there would be should a large fire happen when a break occurs in this main, which is liable to occur at any minute.

When our $300,000 plant is completed, we are in the same predicament; but complete it, and we shall have two 16-inch force mains from station and reservoir to Shields street, with a network of circulation mains of 16, 12 and 10 inch pipe that will not be surpassed by any system of the state. Not a citizen of Newark is more concerned as to the tax rate than we who are opposed to high rates of taxation, and will prevent it if possible, a paltry dollar of expense sometimes saved is hundreds lost later.

As to the annual fixed charges, with a complete plant, the interest would be less than at present, we are paying today, $13,920 annually for 296 fire hydrants and $13,500 interest on the $200,000 bonds, making $27,420. The new bond issue, at 4 per cent, would cost $11,200 plus the old, would make $24,700 for an up to date water works of 425 fire hydrants. As everyone should be able to intelligently vote on the question and know what he may expect therefrom, we give the itemized cost to make up this appropriation. The cost of the plant according to revised estimates is as follows:

The American Light and Water company's contract of October 4th, 1905, is as follows:
Pumping station $22,800 25

MRS. CHAUNCEY TO WED LORD KITCHENER REPORT

Portrait by Irving J. Wiles.

London, Dec. 26.—Society is much interested but does not confidently believe the report that Mrs. Samuel Sloan Chauncey is engaged to be married to Lord Kitchener.

This is not the first, second or third time that the beautiful and wealthy American widow has had her hand disposed of by the gossips. In January, 1901, she was reported engaged to Lord Rosebery, and that report was given with so much circumstance that Mrs. Chauncey had it officially denied.

In June, 1904, it was said that Mrs. Chauncey would marry J. J. Van Allen, and later it was announced that Arnold Morley, son of Arthur Morley, the philanthropist, was the favored man. Both these reports were denied.

Mrs. Chauncey was formerly Miss Alice Carr of Louisville.

Borings 1,000 feet deep in New Orleans have encountered nothing more than mud, sand and a little thin clay, hence the problem of making safe foundations for the piers of a giant railroad bridge which is soon to be built across the Mississippi near the city is a hard one for engineering science. The piers will rest on timber caissons, each measuring over 60x125 feet and 140 feet high. The bottom of these caissons will be 170 feet below the surface of the river.

SCENES IN ANNAPOLIS LYNNING, IN WHICH STUDENTS ARE ACCUSED.

SCENE OF LYNNING. X INDICATES PLACE FROM WHICH NEGRO WAS HANGED.

Baltimore, Dec. 26.—It has developed that the mob which took the negro, Davis, from Annapolis jail and lynched him was not composed of the mature residents of the section where the attack upon Mrs. John Reid was committed, but by a gang of stripling school boys, who took human life as a lark. It is believed, and upon good evidence that the mob was composed of mere boys, most of them probably cadets for the United States Naval Academy and students of old St. John's College.

It has been learned that none of the lynchers came from Brownsville, where Mrs. Reid lived, and her husband knew nothing of the lynching until he heard it in the newspapers. The Annapolis jail officials say the lynchers were young men, wearing college colors and insignia.

George Bernard Shaw

Brilliant Irish Wit Who Makes People Sit Up and Take Notice

Character Sketch of One of the Most Satirical of Modern Playwrights or Lecturers — Keen Critic Who Reveals in a Joke and Sees Things in the Grotesque — Perpetual Paradox Whose Constant Expression of the Opposite View Has Brought Him Fame

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW is always up to date. Since this Irish born, inoffensive British egotist first made his name and his personal pronoun "I" audible on both sides of the Atlantic, about ten years ago, Mr. Shaw has permitted no moon to wax or wane without sniffing at the green cheese of which that moon is said to be composed. Moreover, he invariably has registered his declaration that it is not green cheese, as the world may hold, but something else—sauerkraut, pumpkin pie, brass filings, just anything that is different from the popular belief.

No matter what you may believe or I may believe, Mr. Shaw believes something else. At any rate, he says he does. Whether he really believes that he believes something else is undetermined by the world as yet. Some persons expect him to make a death-bed confession or to leave a posthumous publication to the effect that he has been joking all his life. However that may be, his constant expression of the opposite view has made him famous.

Most persons of average reading believe that William Shakespeare was a great poet, perhaps the greatest of the ages. Even since the rediscovery of Shakespeare a century or so ago we have been told so by eminent critics in Dublin. His father was not rich, but George Bernard recently has presented a newspaper statement classing him as "a peasant lad." The elder Shaw was something in the line of a flour merchant. One day he caught his son playing in the street with the son of a plebeian who sold nails, probably were horse nails, and after that the boy was kept off the streets excepting when he broke loose, which, in the language of Dan Quin, was "some frequent."

Lived on Tabloids and Cod Liver Oil.

When the boy grew to a considerable size he began to think about making a living. He informs us that he earned three sums of money in nine years at writing, the aggregate being £6. The first sum earned was a five pound note for writing a patent medicine advertisement. Mr. Shaw required very little money, being a highly sublimated vegetarian and subsisting during that period on tabloids and cod liver oil, but it is difficult to believe that he lived nine years on $30, so we may assume that he had outside help. In London, to which city the future author went at the age of twenty, the patrons of a cheap little vegetarian restaurant still tell of the days when the tall, gaunt, red whiskered young man used to come in and sit down at a table, take a tabloid or brazen surface of public notice. May it not be that Mrs. Shaw has been the making of her husband?

Since his marriage Shaw has changed materially in his modes of life, though his habits and modes of thought—or, more properly, of expression—are the same as of old. Now he wears clothing that is quite respectable; he eschews the tabloid and the cod liver oil, though still a vegetarian, and he appears now and then in society. Some time after his marriage his acquaintances were amazed to find him at a reception wearing a boiled shirt and a stiff collar and looking quite comfortable. But Mr. Shaw still clings to the flannel shirt for ordinary wear and no doubt retains all his early disgust for starched linen.

"My great idea of clothes," he says, "is that they should be clean and comfortable. This of course excludes starch. I couldn't wear a thing which, after being made clean and sweet, is filled with nasty white mud, ironed into a hard plate and made altogether disgusting."

Then Mr. Shaw has his fling at feminine apparel: "It is astonishing that women put up with their present clothes. Any animal with legs if fettered with a petticoat, let alone several, would eventually go mad. I should have supposed a human figure with a curtain hung around it from the shoulders to the ankles looks like a badly made postal pillar. Tie a belt around your middle and you look like a sack with its neck in the wrong place."

And here is something else he has said since his marriage: "There are only two things really worth having. They are property and family life. Paradoxical to the last, I have won that which I despise and like it immensely."

Yet he wrote to his American agent who sent him a large sum earned by "Arms and the Man," his first play to make a bit in this country: "You have made me go to the miserable bother of opening a bank account." That was prior to the rare day in June when he went to the registrar's office with the lady who seems to be responsible for the partial taming of the Shaw.

Kind to Those in Distress.

Somebody has discovered that Mr. Shaw made a good deal of money in his twenty years of London labor before he "arrived" and that he gave nearly all of it away. He could not bear to see a "poor devil" in distress without handing him out some cash. This is one of the things that he never shouted from his pedestal, which goes to prove him the opposite of an offensive egotist. It goes to prove also that George Bernard Shaw for all his sarcasm and slapdash knocking at things in general wears under his flannel shirt a heart softer than the flannel, which thumps with sympathy for the under dog as violently as his pen pounds against what he deems the follies of respectable humanity. One might venture the observation that a man who gives a pound to a dead poet with one hand while he gives a pound to a live impecunious with the other is not such a bad sort after all, even though, as he proclaims, he be an atheist, a fanatic and a fluent liar.

It must not be forgotten that Mr. Shaw also described himself as a humorist. That he undoubtedly is. England is short on humorists and never could have produced one like this Irishman. It is as a humorist that Mr. Shaw really excels, whether we find him in the play, on the platform or just talking. Satire surely belongs to humor, and Shaw is the most satirical of present day playwrights or platform entertainers. He also delights in a joke. Once he gave Richard Mansfield several days of discomfort, which Shaw enjoyed keenly. He had handed a new play to Mansfield for the actor to read. Mansfield lost it on his way to his lodgings, but shrunk from telling Shaw of the loss. The latter pelted him with questions as to how he liked the play, what he thought of the murder scene in the first act and the duel in the second act, to which inquiries Mansfield made guarded replies. Then he discovered that the manuscript, which had Shaw's name and address on the outside, had been found and returned to the author the same day it was lost and that the murder and the duel were not in the play at all.

A Characteristic Utterance.

Mr. Shaw professes to think quite disparagingly of the United States. Most Englishmen do that, but Shaw is Irish. However, he and we Americans are not going to take offense at a clearly inoffensive egotist. It was the exclusion of his play, "Mrs. Warren's Profession," from production in New York that called forth his characteristic utterance: "Nobody outside of America is likely to be in the least surprised. Constockery is the world's standing joke at the expense of the United States. Europe likes to hear of such things. It confirms the deep seated conviction that America is a provincial place, a second rate country town civilization, after all."

It is for these things that we love G. B. S. He sees things in grotesque. A cowslip by the river's brim may be a yellow cowslip to me, but it is a pumpkin blossom, a full moon or a purple cow to George Bernard Shaw because he sees it from the angle of the Shaw squint. You may see what you regard as a beautiful Venus, but Shaw will find it a leering gargoyle, while the figure on a cornice which you feel to be a horned Satan is to Shaw a winged cherub.

Shaw makes people sit up and take notice. Otherwise we might be drowsy and stupid. We laugh with him, though he pretends that he would make us scowl. Shaw is the supreme earnest, the perpetual paradox. There is but one of him now on earth. Long may he wave!

ROBERTS LOVE.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, Dec. 26.—On Monday evening, Christmas eve, at five o'clock, Mr. J. S. Jones, one of Granville's most prominent and big hearted men, opened his beautiful home on Broadway to about sixty of the children of Granville. The little folks took complete possession of the house, and for several hours it was filled with laughter and merriment. Games of all kinds known in the juvenile calendar were played and each child received a box of candy and a toy. After all had had a merry good time a big bob sled came to the house, and the children were taken a long ride out into the country. They sang songs and gave numerous hearty yells for Mr. Jones, who is deserving of commendation for the good time enjoyed by the children. Mr. Jones has, on several occasions demonstrated that he is the children's friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson and daughters, Edna and Dee are spending the Christmas holidays in Toledo, the guests of Mrs. William Stahl.

Miss Hallie Thomas of Cincinnati who has been visiting here for some days, has returned home.

After a short but pleasant visit in the village, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Peterson have returned to their home in Chicago.

Mr. C. J. Rose, while walking on the streets of Mansfield last Friday, slipped and fell, breaking his collar bone. For a time he was unconscious. He was brought to his home here as quickly as possible, and at his writing is resting quite comfortably.

Miss Minnie Williams of Toledo, after a short visit here, has returned home.

Mr. Amos Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Crawford of Newark spent Christmas day with relatives in Granville.

Dr. George Dorsey of Chicago is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dorsey.

Mr. Harry Amos of Cambridge was in the village Tuesday.

Lee Dale Mercer of Adrian, Mich., spent Christmas day with friends in Granville.

Irving Field, son of Rev. and Mrs. Field, spent Christmas with his friends here.

Several young men of the village gave a demonstration near the dormitories of Shepardson college on Tuesday night that would have put to shame the worst hoodlums in any of the big cities. Of all the uncharitably cat howls, yelping and barking they were the worst ever. Had such a demonstration been made in Newark the perpetrators would have landed behind the bars in short order. The closing ode, "We go, we go," was greatly appreciated by those who were compelled to listen, who sincerely wished they would go never more to return.

Miss Mabel Butterfield, who is attending school in Chicago is home for the holidays.

Martin L. James, who recently purchased the William Ingle property on Sunrise street, has put down the first cement paving on the street, in front of his premises.

Colored Couple Cremated.

New Orleans, Dec. 26.—The charred bodies of Lewis Phillips and his wife, both colored, were recovered from the debris of their home here. Lewis was 80 and his wife 60 years old. It is believed the woman was smoking a pipe in bed and that it dropped from her mouth and set fire to the bed clothing.

Prominent Attorney Indicted.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 26.—T. E. Brady, a prominent Great Falls lawyer, has been indicted by the federal grand jury in this city for having illegally fenced 13,167 acres of public land in Valley county. Brady gave bonds for his appearance. It is said other prominent persons are involved.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they fail to do their work, the blood becomes impure and the body suffers.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-worked in pumping thick, kidney-purified blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Name of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, N. Y., on every bottle.

AMUSEMENTS

JOHNNY WISE TONIGHT.

The great musical success, "Johnny Wise," is this afternoon's and tonight's offering at the Auditorium. Tonight's prices 25 to 75 cents.

OLD HOMESTEAD.

When the curtain rises on the first act of "The Old Homestead" there will come waiting over the footlights the sweet and wholesome fragrance of a pure New England home, the sunlight of an honest, upright character, reflected in the dear old Yankee farmer. And mingled with this delightful and inspiring atmosphere of country life is a genuine strain of American humor, as racy of the soil as are the characters themselves in "The Old Homestead." What need is there to say more in connection with the forthcoming engagement of this perennial favorite? At the Auditorium Thursday, December 27.

MY WIFE'S FAMILY.

The attraction at the Auditorium Friday, December 28, will be one of the most unique of the season, "My Wife's Family," a musical farce comedy by two of the most recent and successful producers, Stephens & Linton. It is hinged on the mother-in-law proposition, but new twists are given to the situations and new ideas are introduced into the comedy. The plot deals with the efforts of a young husband, assisted by a friend, to rid his house of a horde of his wife's relatives, who seem determined to live with and upon him forever. His success but not until he has resorted to everything short of murder. Matinee and night, Friday, Dec. 29.

FIELD'S MINSTRELS.

For many seasons Al G. Field has stood for the best there is in minstrelsy, and always for the cleanest. This season he has previously produced anything he has previously produced. Every act in his show, every piece of his scenery, every bar of his music, is the quintessence of careful attention. Of the 50 members of the company some are the same old faces who, by means of their ability, have remained with Mr. Field for years, while there are new ones in the troupe who still have their reputation to make.

The popular Al G. Field's Gaiety Minstrels are scheduled to appear at the Auditorium Saturday, December 29, matinee and night. The Gaiety club, that famous organization of scribes, wits, statesmen and politicians, has been harnessed in its first act. Diplomats and newspaper men, burnt cork, buff hobbles and pot-shoes, are portrayed in this famous outburst. The chorus is said to be the strongest ever offered in minstrelsy.

GIRL WHO LOOKS LIKE ME.

Kathryn Osterman in "The Girl Who Looks Like Me," delighted two large audiences Christmas afternoon and evening at the Auditorium, and it can be truthfully said that the Christmas play was the best, from every standpoint, that has been seen here this season.

The play is a comedy of the old kind, kind of farce and is built around a tiny thread of the serious that makes it just enough to seem possible, but not probable. The plot of it, with the trouble of Erma Desmond (Kathryn Osterman), who is almost an exact likeness of Mrs. Helen Stanley, a woman with an awful temper, who finally departs from her home in great haste, during her husband's absence in Asia, and leaves the care of her house to her double Erma Desmond, who poses as the real Mrs. Stanley. The general plot is supplied with plentiful trimmings of mistakes and laugh provoking predicaments until finally, just as Erma Desmond is on the point of distraction, because of the trouble in which she has been involved by the return of Prof. Stanley from Asia, a telegram from South Dakota to the professor tells him that his wife, the real Mrs. Stanley, has secured a divorce from him. In the meantime Erma Desmond has inherited $50,000 and the professor at once arranges for her to remain mistress of his house "forever".

Miss Osterman is an exceedingly clever comedienne. Her grace, beauty of face and figure, and her amazing powers of expression, place her in the front rank of her profession. She was supported by a company of which it can be said, there was not a questionable artist a member. The perfectly well taken were the characters of Phyllis Burnham (Charlotte Townsend) and Burton Blount (Gideon Barton).

The attraction made such a favorable impression on the management of the Auditorium and on the two audiences of Tuesday, that a return date has been secured for the early future.

ALONZO SOUSLIN STILL WEARS CAST

FORMER NEWARK MAN ATE HIS CHRISTMAS DINNER UNDER UNUSUAL CONDITIONS.

Mr. Souslin Has Been Victim of a Series of Accidents, Since Reaching Majority.

Dayton, O., Dec. 26.—Alonzo Souslin, aged 41, a native of Licking county, and a former grocer at Newark, is one of the 14 persons known in medical history with a broken neck and who yet survive a misfortune that is almost inevitably fatal. The lower part of Souslin's neck and his chest are yet encased in a plaster of paris cast, and a head gear composed of steel and leather bands holds the neck in position. It is possible that some day Souslin may be able to shed plaster, steel and leather habiliments, but the chances are remote, as the broken vertebra do not knit as readily as other bones in the body. Souslin is compelled, therefore to keep head and neck in rigid position. Should he turn either the sixteenth of an inch, the spinal column would be disturbed and death, it is said, would be instant.

Despite the misfortune, Souslin ate Christmas dinner with his wife and children at their home, and a happier party, comparatively speaking, could not be found about a festal board in this city.

On October 23 last Souslin was painting in a factory building in this city, and while in a stooping position was knocked to the floor by a board that fell from a scaffold above. The board struck the victim on the back of the neck, breaking the bones. He fell in such a position however, as to hold broken bones and ligaments in position. Souslin's head, neck and chest were encased in a plaster cast and for weeks the outcome was uncertain.

Possessed of robust frame and surplus vitality and nervous force, Souslin, despite predictions, lived and is one of the limited number known to the medical world who live with a broken neck. Subsequently the plaster about the neck and back of the head were removed and a headgear of metal and leather, suggestive of what the armor worn by the warriors of centuries ago, substituted.

Souslin has been a victim of a series of accidents since he reached his majority and has spent much of his time in hospitals. On August 2, 1905, while at work in a molding room a sciatic nerve that runs from the back to the hip, was broken loose and he was unable to leave his room for weeks. On August 30, one year later, while he was painting in a school building, the scaffold gave way and he and other workmen went down. Both bones in the right leg at the ankle were broken and the left ankle was sprained. The painter's union took care of Souslin. Nevertheless he was anxious to return to work and although not able to do so had started to work at the factory building when he met with this latest misfortune.

MGR. MATTHEWS GIVEN GOLD WATCH

LURED TO CENTER OF STAGE WHEN CURTAIN WAS SUDDEENLY RAISED.

Presentation Made by Member of the Company on Behalf of Auditor-ius Stage Hands.

Christmas was well celebrated at the Auditorium theatre and was thoroughly enjoyed by "The Girl Who Looks Like Abe" company, the audience of Tuesday night, and the stage hands. But possibly the mingles and most confused man of the hour was Manager Charles E. Matthews, who was presented with a beautiful, solid gold, open face, Waltham watch by the members of local No. 71 of the International Alliance of Stage and Theatrical Employees, in appreciation of their respect for him and the courtesies extended them by him, which prove Mr. Matthews one of the most popular managers the Auditorium has ever had.

Shortly after the fall of the curtain on the second act of Tuesday night's performance, the audience was somewhat startled and surprised to see the curtain hurriedly raised and Manager Matthews dragged toward the center of the stage by Miss Osterman and a male member of the company, while the faces of stagehands and others peeped from the "wings."

After the excitement of the moment had died and Mr. Matthews' captors had succeeded in quieting him, Mr. Gideon Burton, who appeared in the role of the attorney, came to the footlights and announced the cause of the commotion. He called forth the stage employees (some of the boys were too bashful to appear) and after a few remarks, highly complimentary to the employees and management of the Auditorium, and after speaking of the kindness shown the "boys" by Manager Matthews, and their appreciation of it, he made the presentation.

There were numerous calls for a speech, but Mr. Matthews was too much overcome with emotion and excitement to respond. After having been lured to the stage under pretext of need of his help in appraising a valuable piece of statutory which was broken during the second act, being grabbed and rushed on the stage where the curtain was raised on him, Mr. Matthews felt more like a heavy thanks and a rest! After the curtain he got the boys together and thanked them heartily.

FALLS OVER STOVE BURNS TO CRISP

ZANESVILLE MAN AFFLICTED WITH PARALYSIS MEETS A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Geo. H. Chapman Had Narrow Escape Last Summer When He Fell Into River.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 26.—George H. Chapman one of the most prominent citizens of this city, who had been suffering with creeping paralysis for some time, fell across a gas stove at his home Christmas day, and his body was burned almost to a crisp.

Last summer while walking along the Licking river Chapman fell and his body lay in about six inches of water submerged to his neck until the evening of the next day.

It was thought then that he could not recover, but he did, and lived to die by a more horrible fate.

BATTLE FOUGHT

Between Guards and Striking Miners. Several Men Biting Dust.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 26.—Three men were killed and four probably fatally wounded in a battle between guards employed by the West Kentucky Coal company at Turgis, Union county, and the striking miners at that place. The dead are: C. J. Dougherty, mine guard; Billy Malloy, miner; Will Gray, miner. The wounded are: L. I. Moore, mine guard, four wounds, will die; Sam Barney, miner, three wounds, dying; William Goch, miner, shot in the arm; Henry Delaney, miner, shot in the arm. The fight occurred in a downtown street, about one mile from the mine, but just what precipitated the fight is not known. It broke out suddenly and continued until about 25 shots were exchanged. The members of the miners' union have been on strike for the past year. The coal company has been working nonunion men under guards aim constantly, and serious trouble has long been expected. The fight occurred in front of a billiard parlor. A panic ensued and a reign of terror existed for nearly an hour. There is only one officer in the town, but the sheriff of Union county and the deputies have arrived at Turgis.

Twenty-six Former Members of Golden Rod Lodge Join the Organization.

The Knights and Ladies of Security, an insurance order that has had a council in Newark for the past ten years, has received quite an impetus in the addition of some 26 members, formerly members of Golden Rod Lodge, A. O. U. W., and on Monday evening at a meeting held, new officers were elected as follows:

President—S. B. Smith.
First Vice President—P. L. Pratt.

Prelate—Dr. C. B. Keller.
Financier—E. B. Stewart.
Secretary—R. F. Williams.
Conductor—J. A. McFarland.
Guard—Charles Nevins.

The newly elected officers were installed by Deputy Mackey and at once proceeded to business.

Dr. I. N. Palmer, P. L. Pratt and C. L. H. Long were appointed a committee on by-laws and to secure a meeting place.

The council, which has heretofore been known as Old Fort Council, No. 442, named after the Old Fort, which has long been a striking feature of Newark's attractions, will change its name to Golden Rod Council, No. 442, and will be known by that name after the first of the year.

The council will meet at the undertaking rooms of Long & McCament, 29 North Fourth street, on Monday evening, December 31.

Denver Blaze.

Denver, Dec. 26.—The Ernest & Cramer building, one of the finest office buildings in the city, was damaged by fire, the seventh and eighth floors being entirely destroyed. The balance of the building was greatly damaged by water and the basement of the building was flooded. The total loss to buildings and tenants is estimated at $200,000.

CLAY LICK.

The Christmas entertainment given by the Coshocton school was a magnificent success. The pupils did their part in a way that won the admiration of all present. Rev. Mr. Wallace of Newark gave an inspiring talk on Christmas. The address of Dr. Homer L. Simpson was replete with beautiful Christmas sentiment, and was a gem of rhetoric and logic. The Doctor both delighted and instructed an appreciative and cultured audience.

Mr. John P. Bageant has returned from Newark where he visited friends for a week.

Col. Jonathan Shaw, a former much esteemed resident of this place, now of Newark, will soon remove to this place and will conduct a livery, feed, and exchange stable at the interurban station. His many friends wish him success.

There is profound sentiment among the people here favorable to putting him on Sundays.
